Williams, O'Hagan and Frisbee Are All Hard Hitters-Regulars Defeat the "Extras" 14 to 12-Sporting Notes.

Probably 600 people saw the "regulars" of Manager Manning's Kansas City Blues defeat a collection of "irregulars" or "ex teurs, by a score of 14 to 12 at Exposition park yesterday afternoon. The game afforded an opportunity fo some pretty work at rare intervals and the fans were careful not to let such exhibi fans pass unnoticed or unapplauded Harry O'Hagan, whom Manager Watkins, of the Pirates left behind, made his first appear unce in a blue uniform on the grounds and captured the hearts of the coolers at the start. O'Hagan put up faultless fielding game and also snowe himself clever with the stick, in the third himself clever with the stick, in the third inning lamming out a home run when the bases were full. Williams, the St. Joe bey, proved to be something of a player also. In five times at bat he made three bilts, one of them a three-bagger, and accepted four out of five chances. Frisher made three hits, one of them for three bags, the other two carefully placed hunts which he beat to first.

Dale Gear pitched for the regulars for six innings, and Meredith for the remaining three, while Eagan started in for the "extras," retiring at the end of the fourth to give Pardee some practice. All four of the pitchers were hit with considerable frequency, but they all gave promise of doing good work when their arms lose their soreness and tiley have opportunity for more practice. Cleveland will have one of the best pitching forces in the business if Nig Cuppy's arm founds to. If not, the corps will still be dangerous with Young, Powell, Wilson and several more. The Cleveland infield is sturdy and chunky: the outfield fairly fast, and the eatchers superb. Tebeau's men can but, but are slower on the bases than several of the other teams.

Fitsburg has shifted the club around to some degree, putting McCarthy in left instead of Elmer Smith, traded to Cincinnati, letting the whole of last year's catching saff so, trading the speediest of last year's pitchers—Hawley—and acquiring new second and third basemen. The composite team, thus doctered up, seems tairly stlong at the bat, up to the standard in the field, so so in base running, and strong in catching. The pitching is still a duddox question.

The Chicago club is very fast on the bases. Lange and McCormick having no superiors in stealing cushions. The pitching department is penuliarly powerful, owing to the fact that three of the menwhods. The supreme court of Rhode Island has fust awarded $5.690 damages to a cyclist for injuries received in a collision with a street car. Since the verdict was rendered, the company has ordered that no car on the line shall be operated within 169 feet of any bicycle preceding it on the highway, and that cars must be stopped until wheels moving in the opposite direction have passed. If the order is enforced, traffic will be stopped completely when the cycling season opens, and this is apparently the company's intent in order to protest most convincingly against the popular and aggressive wheel, and to register its kick that the court was unjust.

KANSAS RAILROAD ASSESSORS WILL NOT TRAVEL OVER THE LINES.

Telegraph Lines to Be Assessed Scp arately and the Western Union May Be Hard Hit-Pittsburg & Gulf Has Complaint.

Topeka, Kas., April 10.-(Special.) The state board of railroad assessors will begin their work this week of assessing all railroad property in the state. The as-sessors will not make a tour of inspection this year. They will fix up the assessment in the auditor's office. The various railroad companies have filed their statements with the auditor.

The Pittsburg & Gulf people have served notice that they will ask for a reduction in the assessment of the Union Terminal line in Kansas City, Kas. They say that their line on the Kansas side is assessed out of all proportion to their property in Missouri and also to the other railroad property in Kansas.

This year the assessors will assess telegraph lines separately on account of a law passed by the legislature last winter. Heretofore the telegraph lines have been assessed as a part of the railroads. A big pressure will be brought to bear to have the Western Union heavily assessed.

REASONABLE NET EARNINGS. Harry P. Robinson Says 30 Per Cent of Gross Earnings Is a Fair Profit.

Mr. Henry Perry Robinson, editor of the Railway Age, in the North American Review for April, says: "If a company pays all its expenses and taxes for 70 per cent of its gross earnings, it is doing reasonably well. In the average Western states it is unusual for more than 7 or 8 per cent of the gross earnings to get to the stockholder as dividends. But interest charges and other things have already been paid. If we allow 30 per cent of the gross earnings as a balance available for all payments on capital (whether interest or dividend), as well as all 'sinking fund' and 'surplus' requirements, we are treating the railways fairly. The New York Central last year operated for 66.96 per cent of its gross earnings; the Chicago & Alton (an admirably managed and economical road, got below 63 per cent; the Wabash in its last report pointed with pride to the fact that it had its operating expenses down to 69.22 per cent; the Boston & Maine spent 67.39. The Chicago & Northwestern got down to 61. According to the interstate commerce commission, in get to the stockholder as dividends. But Northwestern got down to the According to the interstate commerce commission, in the last six years the ratio of operating expenses to gross earnings on the railways of the country has varied between 66.6 per cent (in 1852) and 68.14 per cent (in 1854), the ratio last year having been 67.2 per cent. Taxes amounted to 3.5 per cent of the gross earnings. The two together last year made 70.7 per cent. If we allow the companies, therefore, 70 per cent of their gross earnings, on the average, for operation and to pay taxes, the remaining 30 per cent is a fair allowance for net income. An average company—especially in the West—which keeps its expenses and tax payments inside of 70 per cent of its gross, cannot be very extravagant, and legislators and the public have assurance that there are no excessive or illegitimate profits, nor any 'corruption funds' or other questionable items smuggled in to increase expenses and keep down the dividend showto the interstate commerce commission, in expenses and keep down the dividend show

WORK ON ELDORADO ROAD. It Is Being Pushed to Rich Hill, Where a Connection Will Be Made

With the Memphis. Greenfield, Mo., April 10.-Since the voting of the $450,000 bonds for the purpose of extending of the Eldorado Springs railroad to Rich Hill to connect with the Memphis, the people are more confident than ever that it means an extension of the Aurora division of the Memphis Arkansas. There is a gap of about forty miles between here and Eldorado Springs and when that is built it will make a continuous line from Aurora to Kansas City. It is generally understood among railway people that the Memphis intends to do something at once, as the Frisco will tap some of their valuable territory with the Blair line-Frisco connection. The work on the extention of the Eldorado road to Rich Hill is being rapidly pushed.

TO TRADE WITH CHEROKEES. Licenses Will Be Issued to United States Citizens by Indian Agent Wisdom.

Muskogee, I. T., April 10.-(Special.) United States Indian Agent Wisdom, of this place, has notified Treasurer Lipe, of the Cherokee nation, that he is authorized to issue licenses to United States citizens to trade in the Cherokee nation, and to collect the revenue due the nation from such traders. He has also authorized the solicitors of the several districts in said nation to assist Treasurer Lipe in the collection of this revenue, when authorized by the treasurer ted or to assist Treasurer Lipe in the collection of this revenue, when authorized by the treasurer to do so.

Article eight of the treaty of 1866 between the United States and the Cherokee nation provides that no license to trade in goods, wares or merchandise, in the Cherokee nation, shall be granted by the United States, unless approved by the Cherokee national council. The Cherokee council has not seen fit to approve any of such licenses and the result has been that all the trading done in the Cherokee nation, outside of Canadian district, for the past thirty years, has been by, or in the name of, a Cherokee citizen. Agent Wisdom, however, has decided that this article of the treaty of 1866 is inoperative because it is in conflict with section 228 of the revised statutes of the United States, which is of a subsequent date to that of the treaty, and which does not require the consent of the Cherokee council before a license to trade in said nation is granted to a United States citizen. Agent Wisdom's action in this matter is approved by Judge John R. Thomas, of the United States court in the Indian territory, and it will no doubt result in a large increase in the revenues of the Cherokee nation, and the establishment of other mercantile firms in the nation.

of Friendship. Pekin, April 10.-The effect of Great Brit-ain's action at Wei-Hai-Wei is already apparent here. The Chinese thoroughly com-prehend now the disinterestedness of England and her prestige is now higher than ever. The Chinese regard Great Britain's action as a step which has saved the empire from dismemberment. No definite ar-rangements have yet been made regarding the extent of territory to be occupied in connection with Wei-Hai-Wei, but probably it will be the same district as is held by the indentations of the coast. The opening gree affect Shanghai which, in a few months will be connected by railway with Woo Sung. Numerous instances are reported of a growing Chinese distrust of Russia. This feeling is shown by the recent totally unprecedented action of the students now in Pekin for their examinations for admission to their final degrees. All are men of weight and standing. They have memorialized the throne urging vigorous action against Russian aggression and stating that all the Chinese are convinced of the enmity of Russia, while they recognize the friendliness of England. Though this action is not likely to have a special effect, it is considered by old residents of China as a most striking testimony to the awakening of the Chinese mind to the deceptiveness of Russia's promises of friendship.

A LESSON IN BOILING.

Satisfactory Results in Cooking Depend Largely Upon This

Trivial Process. Sallie Joy White lave down these valuable rules for boiling in "Cookery for Girls," in the April Woman's Home Companion: in the April Woman's Home Companion:

"For all green vegetables use soft water, saited and freshly boiling. Cook rapidly until soft. The time will depend upon the age or the freshness of the vegetable.

"With green peas, shelled beans, green corn, asparagus, celery and spinach use as little water as possible, and let it boil sway just enough to moisten, and thus save all the desirable soluble matter that may have been drawn out. Cook cabbage and cauliflower uncovered, in a large kettle of rapidly boiling water, salted and with a saltspoonful of soda in it. Onions, scald and change the water twice. All others cook in water enough to cover, and drain to off after cooking. Green summer squash, cabbage and other watery vegetables should be pressed in a cloth or strainer and well drained.

"Many people who attempt to cook are apt to forget that there is a wide distinction between 'boiled water' and holling water, so that the sooner water is used after it has reached the boiling point the more satisfactory the cooking will be. If water stands after boiling it loses its vitality, and cannot be used with good resuits. That is why tea and coffee are so frequently flat and lifeless, without sparkle or flavor; not because the leaves and berries are not good, but because they are improperly made with 'boiled water' instead of freshly boiling water." "For all green vegetables use soft water

Luxury of Leisure for Brain Work.

From Cassell's Journal.
Mairus Jokni, the famous novelist, as a young man invariably rose at 4 in the morning and worked for sixteen hours a day. He has never ceased to regard novel-writing (apart from its success or failure) as the happiest of all occupations. He is reported to have once lost his temper with a friend who argued with him on account of the untidiness of his dress and writing room. "I dislike all luxury, except the luxury of leisure for brain work," was his reply. "Most modern men love luxury because they haven't any brains."
